“ *Hard to imagine still that I will no longer have the privilege of hearing Daryl's voice at the end of my phone, talking some about investments but much more about what made life matter--not the money, but the people in our lives. And I was very happy, in that regard, to tell my kids that Daryl would be the trusted advisor to work with if and when they were in a position to need such advice, and more importantly, such a friend. Daryl's sudden departure has left a void in many peoples' lives, none more so than his beloved family. May God be with you all to bring His peace, comfort and assurance in the days ahead. “ I was so sadden to learn about Daryl. He was one great and fun man. Daryl and I are second cousins. His father and my mother were 1st cousins. When Daryl was at TCU he spent many weekends with us. Would use my car for his dates. He always kept a coke bottle under the seat because he dipped snuff. He always made sure the bottle was clean when he brought the car home. We had so many good times, lots of laughter. He was a caring man always interested in family and the person with at that time. My prayers and love are with his family.
