

Lynne Anne Hunt

June 14, 1953 - December 14, 2022

Lynne Hunt, aged 69, passed away on December 14, 2022. She is survived by her daughters Nicole Hunt and Kelly Hunt Parker (Seth), her step-son Robert Hunt (Stephanie), her sister, Cindy King, and her brother, Michael Jeffries. She is also survived by multiple nephews and grandchildren who affectionately called her "Nana."

After graduating from the University of San Diego with her law degree and passing the Bar exam, Lynne's love of Nancy Drew novels led her to apply to be a Special Agent in the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). Like Nancy Drew, Lynne had a fierce determination to put maximum effort in whatever she put her mind to and in 1978 she successfully joined the FBI as the 91st female Special Agent. Her determination, strong work ethic, no-nonsense attitude, and calm demeanor helped her navigate many difficult situations in her career whether she had to accomplish a two-person arrest of multiple individuals in the south-side of Chicago as a new agent or lead the FBI's Baltimore Field Office through the events of 9/11 as the Special Agent in Charge. Lynne retired from the FBI in 2005 and then went on to have a second career at DuPont managing the company's internal investigations.

In 2012, Lynne retired from DuPont and channeled her fierce determination into mastering her favorite sports: golf, tennis, swimming, and bike riding. While her athletic prowess ensured people noticed her, her loyalty and kindness to others guaranteed she made life-long friends. She always had a moment and kind word for everyone around her, and loved being stopped on her daily walks for people to admire her dogs or to say "hello." Lynne had the sort of animal magnetism that ensured not only her own dogs were obsessed with her, but everyone else's dogs were too. It was often a sore spot with members of her family, who would quickly realize that when Lynne came to visit, their dogs only wanted to be around her. The only thing that matched Lynne's love of dogs was her love of family, especially her children. For her family, she was endlessly generous, thoughtful, and dependable. She was the person her family would turn to when they needed advice, a problem solved, or simply for someone to listen to them. While Lynne will be remembered for many things, above all, she will be remembered for her excellence as a mother, sister, and friend.

In lieu of flowers, Lynne's family kindly ask that you donate to the Palm Springs Animal Shelter to help support the fuzzy butts that were not lucky enough to be one of Lynne's dogs. “ Lynne we will miss your smile, your laugh and your love for life. When we were outside exercising we would often see Lynne with her loving dogs and stop to talk to Lynne. Lynne loved the challenge of any outdoor sport and played them all very well. Hup and I miss our Friday nights after tennis and joining us for margaritas and how we all talked about solving the worldly problems. Lynne was a strong woman and spoke freely about her thoughts, and loved and respected when we did as well. Lynne was a friend to many of us and we truly miss our Dear Friend.

“ Lynne was one of the original members of the IW Cycle club. She was responsible for pushing for the IW jersey. She was always concerned about safety and would remind the group to be safe and communicate. She was my friend, and I will miss her. May she rest in peace.

“ Lynne was the reason I was able to become and serve as a true special agent in the FBI. Our times together on the cold streets of Chicago taught me how to interact and initiate a conversation with anyone who opened the "door to our knock.". Her warmth and joy of living was infectious. How she will be missed by all who were fortunate enough to have been her friend.

“ I knew Lynne from riding with her in the Ironwood Bike Club. She was one of my favorite fellow-riders and learning of her accident and passing was truly devastating news. I spoke with her the day before on the golf course; I spoke with her the morning of her last ride, as she was out walking her dog. It's hard to believe and very sad to think that I won't see her again. She was a special person and will really be missed by everyone who knew her.

“ Worked under her leadership both in the FBI and at DuPont. Always admired her effectiveness, equanimity and treatment of others. She was self-confident without having an out-sized ego. Always approachable and respectful of others, she was a truly unique individual.

“ Lynne was an amazing person who had a remarkable life. I will miss her smile, kindness and patience with me on the golf course. She had Style and we always joked about how easy she made it look. I will miss you my friend!

“ Lynne was someone special and I will miss her. She and I played tennis together and would also compare our orthopedic surgeries! I often ran into her walking the dogs. I was looking forward to knowing her better but her life was cut too short. May Lynne rest in peace.
